NBA Recap

Yesterday was a down day for the NBA model, ending the night 6-6 overall and seeing 3-star plays go 0-1.

The model seems to have hit a postseason slump, with the biggest struggle being the over/under predictions. The lack of offense in the playoffs has been astonishing, and it is a complete 180 from what we saw in the regular season as it was the highest scoring regular season of all time.

Yesterday's 3-star play, Cavaliers +2.5, fell short as Cleveland once again played terrible basketball. The Cavaliers took the lead about halfway through the third quarter, but the Knicks ended up winning the game by dominating the offensive glass.

Money Line Prediction	Over/Under Prediction	Spread Prediction
Knicks ML (-140)	OVER 206.5 (-110)	Cavaliers +2.5 (-110)
Warriors ML (-325)	UNDER 237.5 (-110)	Kings +7.5 (-110)
Celtics ML (-250)	UNDER 232 (-115)	Hawks +6 (-110)
Nuggets ML (-165)	UNDER 225.5 (-110)	Timberwolves +3.5 (-110)

MLB Recap

The first day of MLB predictions wasn't fantastic, but there is still obviously plenty of baseball remaining in the season so I'm not too worried about it.

The model did well up until the final three games of yesterday's slate. The model went 1-7-1 across the final nine predictions made, which tanked the overall record in what was a successful day prior to those games.

Yesterday's 3-star play, Rangers over 4.5 runs, turned into a winner though. The fifth Rangers run was scored on a wild pitch in the bottom of eighth inning, so it looks like the betting gods were on our side for that one.
