NBA Recap

Yesterday was a decent day for the NBA model, going 6-3 overall across the nine predictions that it made.

Money line predictions were a perfect 3-0 and spread predictions were 2-1, but over/under predictions fell behind a bit an went 1-2.

One of those over/under predictions, Suns/Clippers under 227, was a 3-star play, which ended up being a loser. Los Angeles and Phoenix combined for just 105 points in the first half last night, but both offenses erupted in the second half and combined for 148 points in the final 24 minutes of play.

Luckily for us the other 3-star play, 76ers -4.5, was winner. Philadelphia almost blew it after a poor third quarter, but the better team prevailed in one of the luckier wins we have had.

Money Line Prediction	Over/Under Prediction	Spread Prediction
76ers ML (-195)	OVER 209.5 (-110)	76ers -4.5 (-110)
Warriors ML (-215)	UNDER 239 (-110)	Warriors -5.5 (-110)
Suns ML (-140)	UNDER 227 (-110)	Clippers +2.5 (-110)

NHL Recap

Yesterday wasn't a very exciting day for the NHL model, going 6-5-1 overall and essentially going .500 in every category.

The biggest surprise of last night was the Devils losing once again and going down 0-2 in the series against the Rangers. In my opinion New York has the best chance of taking down Boston in the East so I'm not all that surprised that they won both games, but to win both matchups by a score of 5-1 is rather impressive and something that I did not see coming.

Money Line Prediction	Over/Under Prediction	Spread Prediction
Maple Leafs ML (-170)	UNDER 6.5 (-125)	Lightning +1.5 (-190)
Devils ML (-130)	OVER 5.5 (-115)	Rangers +1.5 (-230)
Kraken ML (+185)	Pick 'em	Kraken +1.5 (-150)
Golden Knights ML (-155)	OVER 5.5 (-120)	Jets +1.5 (-195)
